Title

Rainwater Collection Workshop

Summary

This workshop, directed to the community within our district, will demonstrate ways to collect rainwater for future use. It is intended to show that conservation efforts can be made even on smaller lands, or non-owned properties. Resources for where to purchase containers, supplies and tools to recreate collection systems will be provided.

Objective

To instruct those in our district and surrounding areas ways in which they can conserve a natural resource that is available to anyone. Requests for voluntary feedback and updates will be made to those in attendance.

Title
Ranch Tour for Cochise College

Summary
This tour will be for a class of students interested in learning more about ranching. It will give a glimpse of what ranch work entails and how conservation efforts integrate into that work.

Objective
Draw interest from college students in how conservation efforts influence ranching and how ranching can influence conservation. Create positive influence on college staff for possible curriculum updates and additions of conservation.
